JEWS RIOT AS MAN IS KILLED IN ARMS RAID

By B. CORALNIK
(Jewish Telegraphic Agency, Correspondent)

JERUSALEM—Riots following on the heels of the death of a Jewish colony worker who British police said was resisting an arms raid, broke out in Tel Aviv causing the injury of twenty-one Jews and eleven British policemen. Most of the injuries in Tel Aviv occurred during a clash between police and demonstrators who flung stones and flaming kerosene soaked rags through the windows of the government offices. The interior of the offices was set ablaze but the fire was soon extinguished by the municipal fire brigade.

The British flag flying in front of the building was torn down by the demonstrators and replaced by a Zionist banner. A 15-year-old boy was struck in the chest by a bullet fired from a housetop, but most of the injuries were inflicted by police clubs, since the police were apparently under orders not to fire into the crowds. The police finally succeeded in throwing a cordon around the government offices, preventing further attacks.

2 DAILY PAPERS SUSPENDED

Attempts by Mayor Israel Rokach to quiet the crowds were unsuccessful. The mayor appealed to the Palestine Government to cease distribution in Tel Aviv of "Chadashot Hayon, News of the Day," a Hebrew-language newspaper which the government is publishing in lieu of the Hebrew dailies which continue suspended—two of them by government ban and the others in sympathy with them, since its distribution provoked new outbreaks. A pile of copies of "Chadashot Hayon" were burned in a huge bonfire by some of the demonstrators.

A large protest meeting was held this week at Ramath Hakevesh with representatives of most of the Jewish trade unions participating. The only speaker was David Ben Gurion, chairman of the executive of the Jewish Agency, who demanded that the government stop searching for arms in the Jewish settlements, since all such arms were kept only for defense purposes. He also demanded an objective inquiry into last Tuesday's incident by a commission sent from London, the release of all those arrested during the raid, and lifting of the ban on the Hebrew press.

WIFE INJURED IN ARAB RIOTS

Wolynetz, the first fatality resulting from the raid, came to Palestine from Poland in 1936. He leaves a widow, who was seriously injured during the pre-war Arab riots, and a five-year-old daughter. He was 36 years old.

An official version of the events at Ramath Hakevesh, was made public this week, states the raid followed receipt by the Palestine authorities of information that the Jewish settlement was harboring deserters from the Polish army, was a training camp for illegal armed groups, and was concealing illegally secured arms.

The residents of the settlement, the official version says, refused to co-operate with the authorities and attempted to prevent the police from performing their duty by using violence and by subjecting them to extreme provocation. The police maintained great restraint, with a minimum use of force, the official statement claims. It adds that "certain military equipment was found during the search."

PLEA BY SIR ISAAC AGAINST WHITE PAPER PROTEST REBUFFED

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
MELBOURNE, Australia.—A crowded protest meeting held here this week to demand abrogation of the British White Paper on Palestine unanimously rejected the plea by former Governor-General Sir Isaac Isaacs that the Zionists drop the fight against the White Paper in order not to jeopardize an allied triumph by arousing Moslem antagonism.

Prof. Chisholm of Melbourne University charged that Sir Isaac's suggestion "looked terribly like one more appeasement policy." John V. Barry, K. C., prominent Labor Party leader, said that "it is preposterous to suggest that anyone here would do anything to impede victory."

Nazis to Pay for Attacks On Jews, Hull Informs

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
WASHINGTON.—Secretary of State Cordell Hull, addressing a historic joint session of both houses of Congress this week, indicated that the Moscow tri-partite conference definitely kept in mind the fact that "Hitler has reserved for the Jews his most brutal wrath." He told Congress that

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
MELBOURNE, Australia.—Sir Isaac Isaacs, the 88-year old former Governor General of Australia, an Orthodox Jew, issued a statement to the Australian press declaring that Zionists in Australia "are playing with dynamite" if they insist on the immediate repeal of the British White Paper and on the opening of Palestine to free Jewish immigration.

Pointing out that Palestine is only one of the possible places of refuge for Jews from Europe, Sir Isaac expressed the opinion that "Palestine is a place fraught with peril for the integrity of the British Empire and for the issue of the present war." He emphasized the delicacy of the Moslem problem, and declared that he would welcome and support any practical suggestion with regard to saving the Jews from Europe, providing that "it does not embarrass the British Government, weaken the war effort, or invite antagonism on the part of the powerful Moslem world of which Turkey is an important section."

"sure punishment will be administered for all these crimes."

HUSH-HUSH OUT, MAGNIN SAYS

SPECIAL
LOS ANGELES—"If we want to survive as a people, we must once and for all take off our kid gloves and wade in," Rabbi Edgar R. Magnin president of the Board of Rabbis of Southern California, declared here in commenting on the recent outbreak of anti-Semitic incidents. "Almost everywhere in America there is a showdown brewing, for the Jews of this country have two things to guard against... the anti-Semites from without and the Jewish anti-Semites from within. The hush-hush policy, is definitely through," Rabbi Magnin added.

HEARING HELD ON BILL TO RESCUE JEWS

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
WASHINGTON.—Arrangements to bring 5,000 Jewish children and 500 adults out of Nazi-occupied territory, after the Anglo-American refugee conference in Bermuda last winter, were thwarted when the Nazi puppet government of Rumania arrested the agent there, it became known this week.

Chairman Sol Bloom, New York Dem., made the disclosure during public hearings before the House Foreign Affairs Committee on the Baldwin-Rogers resolution favoring a special government commission to plan the rescue of European Jews. Bloom, who was one of three United States delegates to the Bermuda conference, told how ships had been chartered to remove Jews from Rumania and arrangements made to build reception camps for them in North Africa. The British government, he said, had offered to pay all shipping costs.

Duranty to Discuss Russia at Forum Sunday

A capacity audience is expected at Kirshbaum Center Sunday night when the Open Forum presents its second speaker of the season, the famous foreign correspondent, Walter Duranty, who will speak on "Russia and Postwar Europe."

Mr. Duranty served as a foreign correspondent in Soviet Russia for fourteen years, won the Pulitzer Prize in 1932 for his dispatches, and is regarded as one of the world's outstanding experts on that nation.

Born in Liverpool, England, he was educated at Harrow, Bedford and Cambridge.

Rowland Allen, personnel director of L. S. Ayres & Co., will serve as chairman.

The third Open Forum lecture of the season, set for next Sunday, Dec. 5, will present Dr. Mordecai Wyatt Johnson, president of Howard University, one of the outstanding Negroes in the United States. Dr. Johnson's topic for his Open Forum talk will be "The Negro in America."

Badoglio Names 2 Jews To Cabinet Posts

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
ZURICH.—Two Jews have been included in the new Italian Cabinet formed by Marshal Badoglio, thus putting an end to the Fascist anti-Jewish laws under which Jews in Italy were barred from holding government positions.

The two Jews chosen by Marshal Badoglio are Guido Jung and Mario Fano. Signor Jung is one of the most prominent Jews in Italy and at one time was a member of the Fascist party. He is highly trusted by Marshal Badoglio who is acting in the new cabinet as Premier and Foreign Minister.

Montgomery to Head Kisch Memorial

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
NEW YORK.—General Bernard L. Montgomery will act as honorary chairman of an American Committee to establish a memorial in Palestine in honor of Brigadier Frederick H. Kisch, chief engineer of Montgomery's Eighth Army, and political chief of the Jewish Agency for Palestine from 1923 to 1931, it was announced this week by Prof. Albert Einstein, chairman of the committee. The memorial project is sponsored by the American Society for the Advancement of the Hebrew Institute of Technology in Haifa. Brigadier Kisch was a trustee of that institution for many years.

Defending the accomplishments of the Bermuda Conference, Bloom spoke of 22,000 refugees, 6,000 of them Jews, removed from Spain. Other work now going on as a result of the meeting depends on secrecy, he added, and would become valueless if known.

In a statement submitted to the committee, Wendell Willkie urged adoption of the resolution. He regretted his inability to appear in person and said: "The appointment of a commission to establish temporary reception camps for the Jewish people of Europe is of paramount importance. The urgency of the situation demands immediate action."

4 State Committees To Fight White Paper

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL

(Copyright, 1943, by Seven Arts Feature Syndicate)

BY PHINEAS BIRON

YOU SHOULD KNOW

Paul Scheffer, who until Pearl Harbor was Goebbels' news representative in this country, and who now hobnobs with American newspaper columnists and commentators in his swanky Park Avenue apartment, is whispering to his intimates that the takes of Hitler's extermination of millions of Jews are highly exaggerated. . . . How does Mr. Schaffer know? . . . He supported Hitler's anti-Semitism in the days when it looked as if Adolf were winning the war. . . . Hats off to Al Jolson for his succinct comment on the current waves of anti-Semitism in certain parts of the country. . . . Speaking of his visit to an American Army cemetery in Italy, Al said: "There were many white crosses over graves of our heroic dead. . . . There were stars of David, too. . . . But nowhere in that American cemetery did I see any sign reading 'Restricted.'"

WAR ECHOES

Danish Ambassador De Kauffmann, in a recent speech before an audience of Jews gathered to mourn loss of nearly 4,000,000 of their brethren, told his hearers that Denmark has lost one third of her national wealth. . . . A nationally known Orthodox rabbi, who was gracing the speaker's platform on that occasion, is reported as having commented: "Alleiwei auf nus gesogt". . . . Hitler's days, puns Harry Hershfield, are growing fuehrer and fuehrer.

JEWISH NEWS

Flash. . . David Ben Gurion and Dr. Chaim Weizmann, who are on the outs, will soon meet in London to straighten out their controversy. . . . The forthcoming official announcement by the British government that it will not implement the White Paper while the war is still being fought does not mean a thing, since virtually all Jewish immigration into Palestine is impossible while hostilities continue. . . . The editor of the New York Post tells us that as a result of its serialization of Pierre van Paassen's "The Foreign Ally" the paper is receiving inquiries from many non-Jews asking how they can join the Zionist Organization.

BARRY WOOD, EX-SWIM CHAMP, MEETS PILOT HE ONCE DEFEATED

By MORRIS WEINER

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

NEW YORK—Barry Wood, the famous radio singer, tells of the time when he was flying from Cuba to Miami and the pilot asked him if he could swim. Said the pilot: "No sport like swimming. I love it. I used to swim a lot when I was in college."

Very much interested, Barry Wood asked what college the aviator had competed for. He also asked what his name was. "Harold Kramer," was the immediate reply. "I was the intercollegiate champ. But I don't think you'd know me. We swimmers don't get much publicity."

"Yeah, I know," replied Barry. "I used to swim for Yale some years ago. That was back in 1931 and 1932."

"Funny, I don't remember you," said Pilot Kramer. "The only time I ever lost a swimming race was to a chap from Yale and it was just around that time you mentioned. Wonder if you know him. His name was Joseph Rappaport."

Barry Wood smiled. "That's me, bud. I used to be Joe Rappaport."

Biddle Asks Public Aid To Fight Anti-Semitism

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

NEW YORK—A call to the American people to help the government in the work of combating anti-Jewish activities in the United States was voiced here this week by U. S. Attorney General Francis Biddle addressing a dinner of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

It is profoundly shocking, Mr. Biddle said, that anti-semitism should have developed among school children, who, left to themselves, could hardly have turned against other children merely because they were Jewish. "The desecration of Jewish cemeteries is hideously like what we have seen in those countries which have been conquered by the Germans," he stated. "As Americans we must not tolerate this outbreak of the axis pattern in our own country."

50,000 FIGHT FOR BRITAIN

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

Jews Post Guards Before Buildings

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay.—The anti-Semitic front in Argentine received further support this week with the government's appointment of Admiral Leon Scasso as Federal Interventor in the Cordoba province. Admiral Scasso is known for his violent anti-Jewish, anti-British and anti-United States speeches.

Reports reaching here this week from Argentina reveal that a Jewish delegation has appeared before the Buenos Aires authorities asking for protective measures against possible anti-Jewish riots planned by pro-Nazi groups. It is feared that such riots will take place next Tuesday during the first complete blackout in the city. Unofficial inquiries to this effect are reported to have been made also by the U. S. Embassy in Buenos Aires. The authorities are said to have assured the Jewish representatives that proper measures will be taken to check any anti-Jewish demonstrations.

Taking no chances, Jewish institutions in Buenos Aires have stationed special guards around their buildings prepared to resist any provocations. Especially guarded are the synagogues, the Jewish hospital and the buildings of the Jewish daily newspapers which were recently closed down by order of the Argentine authorities but later reopened as a result of President Roosevelt's protest.

ATTORNEY GENERAL SAYS SERGEANT BEAT TWO JEWISH BOYS

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency
BOSTON—The case against two Jewish youths, Jacob Hodus and Harvey Blaustein, convicted in Dorchester District Court last month of "participating in an affray" was quashed this week by Massachusetts Attorney-General Robert T. Bushnell, who declared that there was "evidence of unprovoked and brutal assault" upon the youths by a police sergeant. The attorney-general pointed out that the disturbance in which they were accused of participating was the result of a long series of "acts of lawlessness belonging in the classification of anti-Semitic."

In a statement setting forth the reasons for noprosecuting the case, the attorney general said he was convinced that the boys were not brought into criminal court "as a result of a fair and honest attempt on the part of Boston police authorities to enforce law impartially."

So successful were Krulak's paratroopers, who later were evacuated, that the Tokyo radio announced 20,000 troops had landed on the island.

to the Silver Star, awarded him for gallantry in action during the Tunisian campaign. The citation reads:

"General Rose, representing the commanding general of the First U. S. armored division, on numerous occasions, exposed himself to enemy fire with total disregard for his own safety to report the situation of the most forward elements of the division to the commanding general, and on several occasions personally led forward elements into the attack under intense enemy fire."

Gen. Rose, who is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Rose of Denver, commanded an American combat team which captured Palermo in the Seventh Army's triumphant drive through Sicily. He carried the terms of unconditional surrender to Nazi General Borowicz in Tunisia, and was cited for his courageous leadership in the North African victory.

AMERICAN LEAGUE FOR A FREE PALESTINE

Regional Office, 139 N. Clark St., Suite 705, Chicago, Ill.

TRUE to the spirit and traditions of the American people, who have generously fostered and aided all movements of national freedom and independence, and who have, through specific resolutions of Congress, favored the restoration of Palestine to the Jewish people; conscious that the solution of the age-old problem of the Jewish people is an indispensable condition of permanent peace in the world and one of the objectives of democracy; moved, moreover, by the desire to help preserve the lives and restore the dignity of the ancient Jewish people of Europe and Palestine, the American League for a Free Palestine backs the freedom movement of the renaissance Hebrew nation and dedicates its efforts to the realization of the following objectives and aims.

POST-WAR AIMS

1. To recognize the Palestinian Jews and the uprooted Jews of the Old world as the renaissance Hebrew nation; to secure their right to statehood as a free and independent Government within the historic boundaries of Palestine, it being understood that the Holy Places of all faiths will be placed under the control of a legally constituted international authority and that the non-Jewish population of free Palestine will enjoy the fullest guarantees of citizenship and of individual civil, political and religious rights.
2. To establish the right of the Jews of the whole world to live in freedom and equality on a par with all other human beings everywhere.
3. And thus to put an end to the scandal of history and the problem that has troubled all the countries of Europe by readmitting a great and ancient people to the family of nations, and by restoring Palestine as a nation of the renaissance Hebrew nation, and hereby pledges its full support to this the principles of the Four Freedoms and the Atlantic Charter.

SARA'S COLUMN

By SARA MESSING STERN

"SARA, THE MOOCHER"—At least Chicago friends, during the Council Convention in Chicago, were so kind that this columnist paid only for BREAKFASTS during that whole week! I LIKE Chicago! Anne Blumberg—The former Anne Goldman of Indianapolis—was one of my hostesses. She has a long-established exclusive shop—hand made hats—on Sheridan Road. Anne's sister, Claire, whom I knew during her stay in Terre Haute, is Mrs. Herbert Newman of Milwaukee. Old-timers will recall Mr. Newman's radiantly beautiful sister who, as Blanche Newman, was one of the most popular of Indianapolis visitors. The late Sylvan Kahn of Indianapolis, won her as his wife. She is a resident of Chicago. She was the niece by marriage of Augusta Selig's sister, Hannah Selig Frisch, (Mrs. Abe Frisch of Milwaukee), formerly of Indianapolis, who passed away almost two years ago. Anne Blumberg is an aunt of Capt. Bernard Hyman of the U. S. Medical Corps, stationed in Persia.

"HARRY VON TILZER gave Tin Pan Alley its name," said Walter Winchell in his "On Broadway." Harry Von Tilzer, (Harry Gumbinsky, he took his mother's maiden name after he became successful as a song writer), is a native of Indianapolis. "There were Louis, Julius, Albert, Harry, maybe another brother" said Henry Solomon, a friend of theirs. "No girls in the family! He wrote, 'In the Good Old Summer time,' 'She Was Only a Bird in a Gilded Cage' and many other songs. His folks owned a shoe store combined with a false hair establishment in Indianapolis. Women went in for rats, false curls, bangs and all kind of additional false hair trims!"

WALLIE B. NATHAN, writing from her home in Los Angeles—she was a resident of Indianapolis for many years—still longs for 3623 N. Meridian St., the Nathan home, which she still owns. She and her two daughters accompanied my father to Europe when Daddy was 70. Daddy had met Mrs. Nathan's parents in Berlin in 1911 and finally prevailed on her to take the children to see their grandparents. "I was married by your dear father in the old Indianapolis Club," she writes.

"Jake Solomon was taking care of things at the Club at that time. . . . The first Saturday after my daughter Selma was born, your dear mother called on me like sunshine entering my room. Harriet and Lt. Robert Steinharter, U. S. Navy—she had known him 10 years—were married last June. She carried the same little white satin Bible that I carried when I was married. Rabbi Dubin wrote his name in it. Your dear father's name is written in that Bible. Selma carried it also and Rabbi Feuerlicht's name was written in it, too. Now my granddaughter, Jo-Ann Shaman, married last February, carried it and had Rabbi Trattner, who married her, place his name in the same little Bible!" My heart holds deep affection for Wallie Nathan. She was so mindful of Daddy, and each year, presented him with a certain kind of cologne, of which he was very fond.

BELATED CONGRATULATIONS: To Mrs. I. Nier, whose 75th birthday was Nov. 15. Mrs. Nier makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Frankel and Mr. Frankel. She belongs to a club of five women who always spend the birthday of a club member with "the birthday child." So, Mrs. Lewis Baum, Mrs. Samuel Miller, Mrs. Walter Kahn and Mrs. Dora Joseph were at Mrs. Nier's for the afternoon. Mrs. Nier is the daughter of the late Bernard Kaufman, a pioneer member of the Market Street Temple. Mrs. Nier's mother, nee Regina Mayer, Hannah Rheinheimer Baum's mother, nee Babette Mayer, and the late Walter Kahn's mother, nee Rebecca Mayer, were sisters. Their brother was the late Leopold Mayer, active in the early life of the Indianapolis Hebrew Congregation. . . . To "Bill" Goldberg and Lt. David Leventhal, mentioned elsewhere in the Post, who will be married Nov. 30 in Nebraska. Both have hosts of friends. I am especially interested because David, is a son of Mrs. Fred L. Leventhal.

To Mrs. Simon L. Kiser, nee Florence Bamberger, who had a birthday Nov. 24. There is no one in the city who has contributed so constructively to the musical life of Indianapolis. When it was announced that she was to play the piano, whether is was as accompanist to a Mme. Gadski, Nordica, or Sembrich, there was always an added expectancy, fully realized, that the program of the singer and her accompanist would be par excellence. She was accompanist to the May Festivals here. She served with distinguished conductors, such as Van Der Stucken, Ernestinoff, Rudolph Ganz. She was the accompanist for the old Maennerchor. She is the only charter member of the matinee musicale to be honored with a tea for fifty years of continuous service! She was accompanist for the Bnai Brith Shows, the old Americus Club minstrel shows. She is a charter member of the Council and the Temple Sisterhood and is music chairman for both. I could run on like Tennyson's Brook and never tell all about her musical experiences. Raymond Kiser, her son, Bernice, his wife, and Stanley, her only grandchild, were hosts and hostess for a birthday dinner for her Wednesday night at their home. . . . Mrs. Joseph Bloch on her birthday, Nov. 26. Her name is Roslyn, but sad to her, everyone affectionately calls her "Tinsle!" She is artistic, loves good music, good

She will not let me publish her name in "Sara's Column." She is an emphatic sort! It was useless to try to change her mind this time. Can you guess who she is?

The Editor's Chair,

About two years ago in the first days of the Red Cross Blood Bank, I went up to the Director with the proposition that The Post hold a contest among Jewish organizations to stir up interest in contributing blood. The Director was very receptive and thought it would be a fine idea, as did Mrs. Wolf Sussman, who is a Red Cross worker of 25 years standing. But when I brought this idea to the Public Relations Committee (this committee has since been reorganized) it was frowned on because it might give the inference that Jews were not contributing their share of blood. Since then of course the B'nai B'rith has pushed the blood bank idea, and everywhere throughout the country Jewish groups have taken up the blood bank project.

Just a few weeks ago, I sent our reporter and photographer to the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra with the very simple idea of getting a picture and write-up about the Jewish members of the group. The arrangements were made before-hand, but no story and picture was gotten. A Jewish leader, feeling that this type of activity, might bring divisiveness between the religions represented in the orchestra, had vetoed the idea. Joe Hyman, when I happened to run into him, agreed with this point. He compared it to asking for religious denomination on application cards for employment.

When I see men who are supposed to be thinkers voicing this kind of fear-reaction, I can't help but protest. There is nothing wrong with putting religion on applications of any kind. We do that every time we walk into a synagogue. The evil is in the abuse made of this information. There is nothing wrong with being proud of the Jewish members of the orchestra, even if they are (and I don't know this) overwhelming in their percentage. Suppose they were a group of OPA violators, would their Jewishness remain hidden?

All of this muddleheadedness goes back to two things.

One of which I have mentioned, fear, and the other being the confusion caused by the melting pot theory, which progressive leader-

Can't Fool Jewish Public Much Longer

THE temper of community leaders seems to have reached the danger point, and from all indications there is going to be no more playing around with the four groups who by their own admission represent the Jews of the United States in the civic-defense field.

At an executive committee meeting of the East Central Region of the Conference of Jewish Welfare Funds and Federation in Cleveland last week-end, leaders of thirty-five Midwestern Jewish communities adopted a strong resolution demanding that the four groups merge their activities and end their competition and duplication. A further clause in the resolution was in the nature of a threat, declaring that a fifth agency would be formed among the fourteen cities now having public relations committees, but this was finally stricken from the resolution as passed.

In any event, the Anti-Defamation League, the American Jewish Committee, the American Jewish Congress and the Jewish Labor Committee must realize that wishes of the Jews of the United States can no longer be ignored and that such promises as have been given in the past will not be sufficient. Heretofore, these agencies have promised to do something about getting together when they were put on the carpet at the national conventions of the Council of Jewish Welfare Funds and Federations, and then when the heat has subsided, forget and deny they ever made any commitments.

In Cleveland early this year, all four groups agreed to start negotiations leading to the merger. So far nothing has been done. But events are playing against the Big Four into the hands of those who believe that organization prestige and someone's job are not as important as the security of the Jews of the United States.

What has happened in scattered cities throughout the nation in the past few months makes more urgent the need for unified action. The four groups must realize that they can no longer fool the American Jewish public and that if they wish to continue to exist at all, they will have to unite.

Partition Plan a Smoke Screen

THE partition plan England is readying for public announcement is nothing more or less than a smoke screen. The English Government can not stand the pressure of world public opinion if she stopped Jewish immigration into Palestine, and is beginning the maneuvering through which she will attempt to throw the blame elsewhere. Either there will be more riots and England will use them as the excuse, or she'll say the Jews are refusing to accept the Partition Plan, so let them bear the responsibility.

In any event it behooves Jewish leadership to be ready to act quickly, in unison and with dispatch, lest they be caught on the defensive and in an impossible position by the world's best and most experienced maneuverers.

Tonight Is the Night

TONIGHT (Friday) is the night we surprise our Indiana rabbis by going to synagogue services. Throughout the state, we are going to attend services, even if we haven't been inside the synagogue or temple since the High Holidays.

In addition to the satisfaction you will get from being part of the service with the rest of the congregation, there is the Rabbi, whom we intend to surprise, and The Post, whose effectiveness we intend to prove.

Current Comment

Jews Terrorized for Years Without Show of Resistance—Congress Weekly Editorial Says— Are we prepared for action on a scale commensurate with this threat? What our defense organizations have been combatting so far was chiefly an attitude. That has been the nature of anti-Semitism in our civilized democracy. We term as anti-Semitic such acts as economic and social discrimination, numerus clausus in universities, keeping hotels and certain localities Judenrein. We have been fighting prejudice and bigotry chiefly on a mental and emotional plane. What we are facing now, however, is no longer an attitude revealed in passive "civilized" acts, but active warfare. Whether the victims of this warfare are grave monuments, Jewish prayerhouses and institutions, Jewish store windows or Jewish men and women—the intention of that warfare is to terrorize, to inflict damage and pain. And these are not only Jew-hunting games of youngsters. The riots in Harlem and elsewhere where Jewish stores were the first to be plundered are a warning of what may happen if unforeseen circumstances offer the Christian Front or Silver Shirts fertile ground for their agitation and greater freedom of action.

What was remarkable in the Dorchester revelations was the fact that for over a year Jews had been terrorized in a Jewish locality with hardly a show of resistance. Only isolated places of Jewish self-defense were reported. This would have been impossible in prewar Poland or in Czarist Russia. In the widespread attacks upon Jews in the towns of prewar Poland there was hardly a case where the hooligans were not met by resisting Jews. Even the New York East Side of half a century ago knew how to defend itself from attacks by hoodlums.

Community Gets Kind of Paper it Deserves, the American Jewish Outlook, of Pittsburgh, says—No thinking editor will make any claim that the press had done much of a job. But he would praise the question as to whether the Jewish press has been allowed to do its job. Isn't it all too true that Jewish leadership in many communities ignores the press, allowing it to function as long as it behaves? Behaving means remaining innocuous, saying the right thing to honor the right person at the right time, running the right sort of sad words at the death of the right person.

Remaining innocuous means to ignore anti-Semitic happenings and communal differences of opinions lest somebody read about them, means joining in the conspiracy of silence about what is going on in the community—a silence which certain leadership believes is the right way to face the world.

The printed word is powerful. This power should be used with care, but it should be used with courage. We wonder whether the condition of American Jewry today would be so chaotic if there existed an energetic press that regularly went to battle with any and all forces, whether from within or without Jewry, that were definitely inimical to Jewish interests.

A famous remark might be paraphrased to suggest that a community gets the kind of Jewish weekly that is worthy of it—worthy in the sense that the community supports it, reads it, and looks to it for a certain type of communal guidance. The alternative is a weekly that lists births, marriages, and deaths—the hatch, catch, and despatch type as it is called in England—coming events, and other non-controversial subjects. When this type predominates, a class of Jewish leader answerable to no one except himself grows up. He speaks arrogantly and with certainty and finality about all things Jewish and pays little attention to that feeble voice of democracy.

TOWN CRIER

By G. M. C.

Arnold Mayer, of Michigan City, secretary-treasurer of the Indiana-Kentucky State Association of B'nai B'rith, has been forced to resign due to illness, and who do you think is taking over? Yep, Andrew H. Fried himself. I think Andy ought to return the valise we gave him last month for his seventeen years of service, lest we may have to buy him another gift after this second seventeen years.

It was The Post that urged that the full amount be raised to buy the Hillel House at Indiana when the Hillel committee had decided to raise merely the mortgage price, so I guess we can't become niggardly all of a sudden. Anyway, the move now is to buy a Hillel House for the Purdue Foundation, and no fooling, they're all ready to start the ball rolling. There are just about the same number of Jewish students at both schools, so there can't be any complaint on that score.

"Your issue of June 4 was quite interesting and enlightening," writes Cpl. Harry Rubin, in a note received last week. We looked twice at that "June," until closer scrutiny revealed that Cpl. Rubin is in North Africa.

Lt. Col. Ben Stern, of Evansville, who is now Director of Information and Statistics for the Civil Aeronautics Administration, spoke to the Washington, D. C., Chapter of Hadassah last week, which should give some Indiana Hadassah program chairman an idea. Lt. Col. Stern, who was on the Indianapolis Times, and then secretary to Sen. Van Nuys, recently returned from a special mission for the Office of War Information which took him to Palestine while on active duty with the Marine corps.

The ranks of the Indiana members of the American Council for Judaism have been bolstered with eleven new names, an announcement made this week shows. Indianapolis provided the largest number when Ralph Bamberger, S. Carroll Kahn, Nannette F. Kahn, Edgar F. Kiser, Mrs. E. F. Kiser, E. Letzler, William L. Schloss and Mrs. Louis Wolf joined. Other new Indiana members are Lester A. Ottenheimer of East Chicago, William A. Gumberts of Evansville and Robert M. Pollak of Fort Wayne.

How government officials are being confused by the many demands on them by various Jewish organizations, all claiming to speak for United States Jews, is clearly shown in the news article stating that Senator Frederick Van Nuys of Indiana was one of the senators who joined together to present the resolution urging the setting up of a commission to plan immediate action to save the surviving Jews of Europe. This action was initiated by the Committee to Save the Jews of Europe, and has been opposed by all the old line major Jewish organizations, including the American Jewish Conference. This summer when Van Nuys was home, a Zionist delegation waited upon him

Speaks On Let's Have Peace

MY friend, Mr. Richmond, who is a Zionist, asks me to write something that will help toward making peace in Israel. Certainly, there is awful warfare as I well know from the missiles of invective that have been falling around my poor head.

Only the other day a Zionist whom I counted as a friend passed me on the street with averted head. Apparently, even the sight of me was offensive.

But my own pain doesn't count at all in presence of the agony of Israel being cut to pieces by this dissension. To top it all off a Reform congregation in Texas has voted to keep out of its membership any and all advocates of a Jewish commonwealth in Palestine.

It appears from this that some Texas Zionists practically are excommunicated from the blessings of Reform Judaism. Presumably a Texas Zionist will be denied the streamlined ministrations of the Union prayer book at his grave and will have to be content with the much longer Orthodox ritual. This, in a time when everybody is in such a hurry and can't afford too much time at a friend's grave. (I should say, though, that this is far from the attitude of Reform congregations generally.)

Yes, it seems time to talk of peace, and I commend the fine tolerance of Zionist Richmond in asking me, a non-Zionist, to raise the white banner. What Jewish life lacks is enough tolerant men on either side of the political fence.

Mr. Richmond said there are so many things on which we all do agree, and so why should Israel be torn to shreds by one difference of political opinion?

Politics doesn't work out that way in other spheres of human life. I have in mind that some of my best friends are Republicans, though I myself am a New Dealer. We do not despise each other. We bring up the matter of our political difference only in a friendly banter. Up at the gym we toss medicine balls at each other, each concerned with furthering the health and strength of his friend.

We join together in the synagogue on Yom Kippur and pray aloud for the remission of our common sins. With my Republican Jewish friends I march shoulder to shoulder in the season when the Jewish welfare drive is on. What the hell's the difference that I take my national politics one way and they another? Outside the area of politics we can and do work together for the same decent things.

Among my Republican friends are Christians also. Though with these I disagree not only politically but also in the matter of religion, we stick pretty well together in all the essential things related to the welfare of the city.

Only in the realm of Jewish politics is fanatical behavior discovered, as seen in the case of the Texas congregation that will have nothing to do with Zionists even to burying them or as heard in the vituperation of Zionists against non-Zionists. . . . "Traitor to Israel" . . . "Quisling." . . . "Fifth Columnist."

The prime essential of peace in Israel is to understand that the issue of political Zionism is only a part of the complex that is called Jewish life; that men can divide politically and still stand together on all important causes of their welfare; that between human beings there are more likenesses than differences, anyway, and why emphasize a difference and make a deadly schism of it?

I am a non-Zionist. So what? I don't despise Zionists, though I believe they are in error. They are people who are as zealous for the welfare of Jewish life as I am. There is this political difference between us, but Jewishly we have everything else in common.

They and I know we have a common inheritance of religious ideals. Some of them aren't quite religious in the formal sense, but they and I agree that we possess a body of ethical principles which we must teach and spread for the honor of the Jewish name and for the sake of the contribution that we, as Jews, must make toward the building of a more just and lovely world. We are together all right on that.

They and I suffer vicariously the pain of Israel persecuted, starved and slaughtered. We may not stand divided in the presence of that tragedy. We must speak our horror with one voice in order that the conscience of mankind may hear it above the tumult of battle even. What kind of a family is it that quarrels over politics while the brothers perish?

They and I know that whatever the fate of Palestine, even if a Jewish Commonwealth is proclaimed, it will still be our obligation to speak for the multitude of Jews who will try to rebuild their lives outside Palestine. . . . Jews in Poland, Jews in Roumania, Jews in Bulgaria, Jews in Yugoslavia. At the peace table we shall demand that they must be treated not as inferior minorities, governed by special laws, but as equal citizens entitled to all rights and privileges of any other nationals in these countries. We do and must stand together on that.

They and I agree that Palestine shall be made a happy refuge for homeless Jews. They and I have given money for that these many years. We are determined that the work of building Palestine for our people shall continue. We are resolved that Palestine must take the shelter and provide work for an increasing number of Jews.

The Zionists and I, the non-Zionist, agree on all that, and as I happen to know it is also the thinking of many other non-Zionists who are distressed on account of a divisive political controversy that seems to be cutting the body of Israel in half.

And, as to the political issue, what of it? We can keep on disagreeing on that in the reasonable manner becoming to democratic people. Better still, we can compromise. The American Jewish Conference erred when it put the Jewish Commonwealth first on its agenda and railroaded it through. This alienated many Jews to whom political Zionism is abhorrent.

Could the American Jewish Conference meet again to correct the error, to proclaim a compromise resolution that would drop the Jewish Commonwealth and call for free immigration in a Palestine governed by a constitution in which Jews and Arabs share equally the responsibilities of government?

In the meantime, let's have peace. Let's stand together for the sake of the ideals and duties we have together.

Strange Are the Ways of Some Pacifists

(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

At a time when Secretary Hull was addressing Congress and receiving an ovation seldom accorded an American statesman, for a report full of dignity and promise, on the Moscow agreement, Senator Nye made a statement sinister in its impertinence. The timing of his statement should be noted.

Senator Nye came out for the right of any nation, including the German Reich, to have a Fascist regime. Senator Nye made no plea for the German nation or people. The fate of any people was not concerning him. The fate of Fascism concerned him. Fascism, he said, "is not essentially militaristic or aggressive."

Senator Nye, who all his life has posed as a pacifist, also came out for "the sovereign right of any nation to declare war whenever the people see fit," and then declared for American isolationism "if this peace become the incubator for a new world war." He objected to any international measures to prevent aggression, but suggested that in the event of aggression by any country "the major powers could then combine temporarily to halt it, like a posse goes after an outlaw."

What we call Fascist regimes have been set up in the last two decades, and all of them have been militaristic and aggressive, first against their own people, whose civil rights they have ruthlessly destroyed, and then in the two leading cases against the outside world.

The proposition that every nation has the right to declare war as it sees fit, makes all treaties scraps of paper, and runs against the conscience of mankind. It reveals the pacifist, Senator Nye, as the world's leading hypocrite, cynic and whited sepulcher.

The concept that the whole world would spontaneously—and invariably successfully—spring to arms against an aggressor, is meaningless when there is no definition of aggression and no condemnation of it.

* * *

If Senator Nye is thinking of Fascist enemy countries, he is pleading for their victory. For there is no possibility of Fascism or Nazism surviving a United Nations victory.

But I do not believe that Senator Nye, the isolationist, is thinking of them at all. Senator Nye is thinking of America. He does not want Fascism outlawed elsewhere in the world, for he does not want it outlawed here. It is as simple as that.

Senator Nye knows, of course, that he is giving aid and comfort to the enemy. The Nazis are keeping the German people in line and a seemingly hopeless war going, in the hope that the United Nations morale can be undermined from within. What the German propagandists are looking for, to feed their own desperate people, is evidence that the is no united front against Fascism-Nazism. Senator Nye's remarks will be printed in full in the German newspapers, as soon as they get there.

* * *

It seems that Senator Nye, who taking advantage of the immunity of a position in the august body of the Senate, dares to abuse the patience of America with words that in any ordinary mouth would bring down a thorough-going investigation by the F. B. I., is advocating a hopeless cause. For Fascism will be defeated in Europe. It is certain that the United Nations will not make a peace permitting its re-establishment.

But Fascism is an international movement, and frame of mind, and already its leaders are conspiring about where they can re-begin their work, even if defeated in Germany. The first thing they must do is to whitewash their black record, and Senator Nye has started this process.

The second thing necessary for them, is to anchor themselves in the victorious powers where the movement will be safer than in the defeated countries. A defeated Germany will be their object for "liberation," and the step toward that next war will be to Fascize the victors.

* * *

In a country like America, that has had no experience with Fascism, many tricks of the Fascist movement can be repeated without the people even recognizing them as such. Whenever, after this war, anyone in Europe will try to set race antagonisms adrift, all will look down at his feet for the hoof, recognizing that by these means constitutional government and domestic tranquility have been destroyed. The European who has seen the scapegoat of anti-Semitism used to destroy his civilization, will turn against it, not because he is pro-Jewish, but because he wishes to protect his own rights. But in this country there are thousands of people who do not see the connection between anti-racial agitations and the destruction of personal freedoms. Senator Nye, I believe, does see the connection.

* * *

In the same moment, furthermore, when Senator Nye declares Fascism to be non-militaristic, he proposes a general as our next President. Very strange are the ways of some pacifists.

General MacArthur is a great military leader and a national hero. I regret that his person is demeaned and even made suspicious by the advocacy of Senator Nye, whom he must thoroughly despise.

America should not take lightly such straws in the wind as this statement. Our enemy fights with many means other than arms. Our civilization is threatened, not only from without but also from within.

and presented him with a memorandum in behalf of Palestine, the voiding of the White Paper and so on. Van Nuys doesn't have the time, and if he had the time, might not be able to discern the difference between the various Jewish groups which seek his good offices in behalf of the Jewish people, to whom it certainly can be said that Sen. Van Nuys is very favorable. Van Nuys told the delegation this summer that he would be glad to be part of a congressional bloc to present a proposal for helping the Jews, and no doubt he feels that his action last week was in response to the appeal of the Indiana Zionists, although as a matter of fact they follow the Z. ship discarded years ago. Under the melting pot theory we all come out on a standard mold. Under the now accepted theory, the various groupings and strains make their individual contributions as in a symphony. Thus as Jews we make our contribution in whatever field we are best qualified.

Now if these two factors don't cover that symphony situation, then I'll lick the ink off of this paper. Incidentally I am looking at an article by David Ewen in The Jewish News of Detroit entitled "Jewish Artists and the Metropolitan Opera House."
